CHURCH VILELY SLANDERED.

Facts in the Case That Those Interested May Read and Thus Form Correct Conclusions.

The reading public in these parts has been afflicted with stories concerning the "Mormon" Church and its President, which have either no foundation at all in truth, or are concocted on the slenderest possible thread of fact, which is woven into such wretched garments of fiction that they are worse if possible than the whole cloth falsehoods.

One of the many fabrications of this kind that has been dealt out with sickening iteration from day to day is that in which the late Alonzo H. Raleigh has been made a figure. He was a prominent and noted citizen of Salt Lake, an active worker in municipal affairs and at one time the Bishop of the Nineteenth ward. This departed citizen has been said to have been a member of the "Mormon" Church and the Church to which he belonged has been shamefully libeled over a matter that has been settled by the courts, which alone had jurisdiction of the case. In the publications referred to the truth, the salient points in the controversy and litigation have been carefully suppressed, while positive falsehoods have been brought to the front for the purpose of casting opprobrium upon the deceased and upon the authorities of the Church, the latter having no present financial interest in the case, which has been administered according to the terms of the will left by Mr. Raleigh.

FACTS IN THE CASE.

The charges that have been made are to the effect that Mrs. Emily P. Raleigh, a widow of the deceased, was driven from her home and home and estate by the "Mormons" and that she was left penniless and homeless. The fact that the Church held on to the property, allowing her to be cast out like another Hagar, leaving her without a shelter to cover her, the fact that the Church has had nothing to do with the proceedings could have been ascertained by reference to the court records, and the decisions rendered. The "News" will here present the matter briefly, so that the public may understand the situation of affairs.

When Mr. Raleigh died, his estate was valued at about $100,000. He left a last will and testament covering its distribution, and it was found that, with certain exceptions, the estate was placed in trust for future distribution to different parties. The Church's interest was a lot on First West and Second North street, which was not to come into possession of until two years after his death. It had expired. Mr. Raleigh left two plural wives. To one of them, Elizabeth Raleigh, he bequeathed a home on Center street, and to the other, Emily P. Raleigh, a home on First West street, consisting of real estate, upon which there are three houses, with a rental value of $42 per month. In addition to this property he provided for her a cash allowance of $25 per month, and a further allowance to her of $10 per month for the care of her incompetent child. The other children of the testator had received places for building lots from the estate.

EQUAL REQUESTS.

One provision of the will was that the executors were to make the bequests to both wives equal, and the lot given Emily P. Raleigh on First West street, was appraised at $15,000, more than was the lot given Elizabeth Raleigh on Center street, and for this reason the executors paid out of the estate's money, $1,500 to Elizabeth Raleigh.

COURT'S DECISION.

On the hearing, the case consumed four days before Judge Hall, and it was held that Emily P. Raleigh had no right, title, or interest in the property on Center street. She was represented by Attorney Arthur Brown, while King, Buchanan and Mutual Investment Company, and H. S. Tanner for the estate. The legal point on which the decision was made was the acceptance by Mrs. Raleigh of the bequest of the amount named in her will, and not as alleged, her status of a plural wife of Mr. Raleigh. COLLISION ON ENGLISH RAILWAY.

An Electric Express Train Crashes Into an Empty Stationary Train.

Liverpool, July 28.—An electric express train on the Lancashire and Yorkshire railway, bound from Liverpool to Southampton, collided last evening with an empty stationary train at the Halford station, causing the death of 23 persons and the injury of many. The first car of the express which was crowded with passengers to pieces and only six of its occupants escaped. The road was recently given an electric equipment.

This is the first serious accident that has occurred on an electric railway in a long time, and it has caused a number of inquiries into the cause of the collision. The train was under the control of a Liverpool architect, who, seeing that a collision was inevitable, shouted to his fellow passengers to throw themselves upon the floor. He was killed by the impact of the crash. The wreckage burst into flames, and the bodies of the dead and the injured lay vainly beseeching for help. The fire was extinguished by the fire engine which arrived on the scene. Almost immediately after the crash, the wreckage burst into flames, and the bodies of the dead and the injured lay vainly beseeching for help. FUNERAL OF ENSIGN NEWMAN K. PERRY

He Was the Only Officer Who Lost His Life in the Bennington Explosion.

BODIES ARE TO BE EXHUMED

Authorities Have Discovered an Act of Congress Permitting Them to be Shipped Home.

San Diego, Cal., July 28.—At 80. Paul's Episcopal church at 10:30 o'clock this morning was held the funeral of Ensign Newman K. Perry, the only officer who lost his life in the disaster on the gunboat Bennington. Rev. J. A. M. Hickey was in charge, assisted by Bishop J. H. Johnson of Los Angeles and Chaplain Stone of the flagship Chicago. Commander Young and officers and men of the Bennington, officers and men from Chicago, active and retired army officers, councilmen, heads of city departments, companions of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion, officers from Fort Rosecrans, officers of the naval reserves, local federal officials and officers and members of the chamber of commerce were present. The general public was not admitted owing to the limited capacity of the church. The remains will be taken to Stockbridge, Mass., for interment, leaving here tomorrow afternoon.

The bodies of the Bennington's victims who were buried in the military cemetery on Point Loma are not to remain where they were laid with impressive ceremonies. Now that they are at rest, the officials have discovered that after the Maine disaster Congress enacted a law providing for the transmission of the bodies of dead sailors to their homes. The undertakers telegraphed to the nearest relatives of the dead with instructions regarding the disposition of the remains. In many cases answers were made that the bodies should be shipped if it could be done at the government's expense. Accordingly, the bodies of the 40 remains were interred, and embalmed, in the little burial ground on the hill. Now Paymaster Morris is telegraphing to relatives that upon request the bodies will be shipped to their homes at the expense of the government. So far such request has come for two of the bodies and it is likely that a majority of them will be shipped home at the expense of the government. The bodies of the following have just been sent away: C. L. Burns to Chicago; Andrew Kanter, to London; G. J. Joseph Newcome, to Quincy, Mass.; Emil Dreesch, to Newark, N. J.; Clive W. Brockman, to Des Moines, Ia.; William Pickens, to La. Porte, Ind.; John C. Barchus, to Chelinda, Ia.; Charles O. McKee's remains will be forwarded to Fenton, Mich., this evening.

HOCH'S EXECUTION IS POSTPONED.

Two Hours Before Time Set For It Woman Appears at Jail With Money for Appeal.

SHE REFUSED TO TELL NAME.

GOV. DENEEN COMMUNICATED WITH

Finally Granted a Reprieve of Four Months—Condemned Man Was Overjoyed.

Chicago, July 28.—A woman with money effectively intervened today between "Bluebeard" Johann Hoch and the hangman. Almost on the steps of the scaffold, the combination of femininity and finance that has been potent throughout the remarkable career of the multi-bisexual and wife murderer developed anew and secured for him a longer lease of life. The woman who went to his rescue is said to be wealthy and professed to have become interested in the case from humanitarian motives only. She enlisted to her aid Dr. Liston H. Montgomery, one of the most prominent physicians in the city. Dr. Montgomery acted as her intermediary in the negotiations.

At 2 o'clock a Dr. Jailer Whitman was aroused from sleep to answer a telephone call. Some person who refused to give his name announced that he would appear at the jail at 10 a. m. prepared to furnish money by the lack of which it has been alleged prevented Hoch from completing the legal records required by the Illinois supreme court in case of all appeals. The records cost $1,000. Hoch had $500 and a conditional promise of $400 additional. Because no name was given on the telephone, Jailer Whitman attached little importance to the notification, but today at the hour named Dr. Montgomery with Mrs. Wilson appeared at the jail. Their talk with Whitman convinced him they were in earnest and steps were at once taken for a new appeal to the governor.

Mrs. Wilson said she stood ready to advance a portion of the money necessary to enable Hoch to carry his case to the supreme court. She said that three persons had also agreed to advance a part of the sum necessary. Mrs. Wilson departed to see these men and if possible to appeal to the governor herself. She was anxious to advance a life-like portrait of the state executive.
